

Town – Peachland

Position – Town Council

Name – Jason Mullis

Education – High School diploma and various State Certifications that pertain to my job and some Technical school certifications in electrical.

Past Employment September 2000 – September 2013 Union County Public works Maintenance Supervisor for Waste Water Treatment Plants.

September 2013 – Present Town of Ansonville Town Director

Poultry Farmer 2010- Present

Community Involvement – I have been on The Peachland Town Council for 8 years and have helped in making important decisions for the Town and Citizens, I have served on the zoning board for over 9 years and was on the board that approved and adopted the new zoning ordinance. I also serve as the Chairman of the zoning board for the Town.

Favorite Movie – Open Range - Why? Because the small guy can make it in the big guys world.

Why I am running for office? To better the community that I live in. To help control growth and keep taxes as low as possible.

What have I done to prepare and how will I conduct myself? The same as the past 8 years. Be knowledgeable about Town business and projects and will continue to conduct myself in the same manner if elected again or not.

3 actions to support a small business – Tax breaks reduced or wave required fees for water or sewer hookup relax zoning regulations if does not affect citizens or decrease values of surrounding properties.

The greatest economics challenge for Town is that it is only one square mile. We do not have room to grow as we are now. I would like to see Peachland do ETJ to the max allowed by State. We have big tracts of land that join our Town limits that I believe would benefit the Town in numerous ways being homes or manufacturing.

Do I think Town Government should weigh in on labor and industry issues? – I do not. I feel like that is not for the Town government to be involved with.

Do I support an effort to create? Yes. I think this is the easiest way to get things done. The more all parties are involved with a project and educated about such helps in so many ways.

If elected again I feel we all can work well together as we are all in this together for the better of our communities.
